Practical Training and Assessment

Roads and Maritime Service (RMS) requires drivers intending to complete the Snow Driver Training Course to undertake and be assessed as having satisfactorily completed both a theory and practical component of the course. This requirement is outlined in the RMS BOAS accreditation Bulletin update no 1.2 (June 2018).

The practical training and assessment is required to be conducted by an authorised representative of a Transport for NSW approved Registered Training Organisation. INTO Training Australia has been approved to conduct the practical training and assessment.

The practical component of the course will include:

- pre-operational checks of bus and equipment;
- familiarisation with chain fitting bays, bus parking areas and hazardous road areas;
- the practical fitting and tightening of chains; and
- two hours supervised driving in the Kosciusko National Park.

All such practical training and assessments are to be carried out in the Kosciusko National Park between the 1 June and 11 October, preferably during sleet, snow or ice conditions when possible. The driving should be undertaken in a vehicle that is appropriate for the trainee's class of driver licence. Applicants must complete the practical training and assessment within 2 years of completing the theory-based component.

Please note the cost of the practical training and assessment is in addition to the theory component.

When you attend the theory component at BusNSW, an INTO Training Australia Practical Assessment enrolment form will be provided. This will contain a list of scheduled training and assessment dates and times in the Kosciusko National Park. These dates will be filled on a first in, first served basis. If the scheduled times or dates do not suit you or you will not have a vehicle, you can contact INTO Training Australia to discuss what other options are available.

A snow driver card (sometimes referred to as a "snow driver licence") will only be issued by BusNSW after INTO Training Australia is satisfied that both the theory and practical components of the course have been successfully completed. Drivers are required to carry the card as evidence of having completed the Snow Driver Training Course (theory and practical components) when carrying passengers into the Kosciusko National Park between 1 June and 11 October each year.
