

Countdown to BusNSW Terrigal Conference

12 April 2017

The countdown is on for the 2017 BusNSW Member Conference to be held at the Crowne Plaza Terrigal on Thursday 20th and Friday 21st April 2017.

Executive Director of BusNSW, Darryl Mellish said over 200 delegates have registered to attend the conference which will focus on a theme of “Staying Ahead of the Game”, which reflects the need for the industry to be in a good position to achieve progress in a dynamic environment being disrupted by technology and the rise of the sharing economy.

“We are very pleased that The Hon. Andrew Constance, MP, Minister for Transport and Infrastructure has agreed to attend and address delegates at a time when the NSW Government has a number of significant public transport projects in the pipeline” Mellish said.

“Minister Constance has performed very well and has become a recognised leader of technology based transport solutions” Mellish said.

The opening session will include Guest Speaker, Rob Carlton, a Silver-Logie-winning actor, producer, writer and director.

The program includes presentations from Melinda Bailey, the Executive Director, Compliance & Regulatory Services at RMS and Barbara Wise, the inaugural NSW Point to Point Commissioner.

Other conference highlights for delegates include hearing about the TfNSW delivery of contracted services and how operators are performing, as well as an industry report covering all issues impacting on BusNSW members.

The conference will conclude with a session titled “Vehicle & Information Technology - Where are we Heading?”.

“This will be a partly interactive session and with an opportunity for delegates to better understand what technology will be available in the future.” Mellish said
